

Andicor Specialty Chemicals Named Exclusive Distributor for Evonik Coating Additives in Canada

Ontario, Canada — February 11, 2026 — Andicor Specialty Chemicals is pleased to announce that it has been named the exclusive distributor for Evonik Coating Additives in Canada, effective May 1, 2026. Under this streamlined distribution structure, Andicor will provide national coverage for Evonik Coating Additives across the Canadian market.

Evonik Coating Additives offers a broad portfolio of solutions for coatings and inks, including additives for waterborne, radiation-curable, and solvent-borne systems, as well as inkjet and printing inks.

This distribution structure supports Evonik Coating Additives' ongoing commitment to strengthen its presence in Canada and ensure exceptional service, technical support, and supply security for customers in the coatings and inks industry.

“With this optimized distributor network, Evonik Coating Additives is reinforcing its dedication to providing the highest level of service and technical expertise to our customers and partners,” said Michael Zink, Vice President & General Manager Americas at Evonik Coating Additives. “This new structure will allow us to serve our customers effectively and efficiently.”

Evonik's focus remains on delivering innovative additive technologies and providing agile, customer-centric support throughout Canada.
